Start Extending Conscription to Industrial Work

B. E. T. RICHARDSON
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau
OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—The extension of conscription to industrial work announced January 22 by the Canadian government is actually going to effect this week. Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, minister of labour, said today. At the same time, it is learned from another reliable source, the government intends to withdraw men from the home defence army.

Notices for the labor draft have been posted and forms issued all over the country by the conscription offices. A man receiving a notice will be required to report to an induction center.

The age classes covered by the labor draft are the same as the military draft, single men from 19 to 40 and married men from 19 to 25 years. In these classes the number not in uniform amounts to between 100,000 and 120,000.

FILL OUT SHORTAGES

Initially the labor draft notices will go to men rejected by the armed forces as being unfit for conscription granted postponement. Only a few thousand are being called at first, and the initial group to which the labor draft will be used to fill Codor Hugh Merryleather, R.C.N., 2nd class, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Merryleather, 1819 103 Street, who was reported "missing" believed to be serving in action with the Royal Canadian Corps of H.M.C.S. "Louisburg" was sunk in the Mediterranean recently.

He was born in Alberta, and received part of his education in Edmonton at Stratford High School, and later at the University of Alberta, interrupting his course two years ago to join the navy.

"Louisburg" was the victim of enemy dive bombers and torpedo planes in the North African action.

INSTALMENT II Ships With Wings

The Lexington and her sister ship, the Saratoga, were the floating laboratories through which the Navy, and the world, learned to build up a modernized sea-borne aviation. Exercises with these two great ships first taught U.S. Navy leaders the potentialities of the Air Striking Force and exerted tremendous influence upon the design of all other fleet vessels. In other words, it was the Lexington and Saratoga that transformed the whole concept of naval aviation.

The Lexington was the U.S. Navy's first really big aircraft carrier. She originally was one of the three ships designed for the three-year building program authorized August 29, 1916, but work on her was started in 1920, and she entered the service of the United States into World War I. As one of these cruisers, the Lexington was designed to be built great speed and maneuverability.

Her planned tonnage was $3,000—the approximate weight of the hulls of the two ships which were sunk in the Coral Sea.

The Lex was a little finished and the Saratoga a little further along, when the Washington Conference on Armament, held in the Solomon Islands area which cost the Japanese two destroyers, two transports, and three ships probably sunk or damaged, the United States Navy announced.

In addition at least 60 Japanese planes and 22 American planes were destroyed. Thus the S.S. motor torpedo boats were lost.

The actions attempted to evict troops from the Philippines to reinforce with American reinforcements, covered the period Jan. 29-Feb. 4 (See page 2, Col. 1).

It was all-air versus ships; no surface ships were engaged with the United States.

AIR TORPEDO ATTACKS

The encounters, revealed in detail for the first time today, occurred in an area covering almost 10,000 square miles.

The Chicago, a 9,000-ton cruiser, was hit by a Japanese air torpedo plane attack. Personnel

4th Dutch Nazi Leader Attacked

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(CP)—An attack on the fourth Dutch Nazi leader, Procurator-General Fruin of Amsterdam, was announced today. Anton Mussert, chief of the Dutch Nazis, was in London, reported by the German-controlled Netherlands radio. The broadcast was heard by the Netherlands News Agency.

The broadcast did not say what, if any, injury Fruin suffered.

Seven Fire Deaths

AUGUSTA, Me., Feb. 16.—(AP)—Death toll from house fires in Augusta rose to seven today with the death of an 18-year-old youth in an Augusta hospital. An elderly woman also was believed likely to die of burns.

Part of Admiral Moffett's conception was that all aircraft carriers should be fast long-range vessels, able to sustain maximum speeds and carry large numbers of aircraft.

Canadian Navy Corvette Sunk By Air Attacks

B. JOHN DAUPHINE

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—(CP)—Sinking of the Canadian Corvette Louisa with loss of 38 lives as a result of enemy air attacks while on convoy duty in the Mediterranean recently.

Abolition of Senate Urged In Commons

OTTAWA, Feb. 16.—(CP)—Victor Quach, M.P., Acadia said in the House of Commons last night that promises of a new age had been made for the period after the first Great War but it was the second that had come and adas had no real working demonstration.

Quach spoke in the continuance of debate on the throne speech after third reading had been given with a bill providing a sum of $55,000,000.

Mr. Quach said the senate had entitled its usefulness and should be abolished. He said men who were aged could have the same consideration as other old people in the pension plan.

SEES TWO PARTIES

Mr. Quach said he believed two parties eventually would develop, one representing the people living in the jungle law and the other believing in the people's rights to security. He said there must be an earnest intervention to ensure security for the people.

The Social Credit theories he has advanced since his election in the House of Commons, he said, unless a proper approach was made to financial problems the end of the war would bring about a prelude to a civil war or another international war.

G. H. Campbell, G.C.F. York, told the house: "The C.C.F. York should be well represented at the peace conference in view of the fact that the Dominion had played in the war."

There was indication that the government was not suffering neglect in spite of government promises. Mr. Castleton said a man who had been a member of the service and discharged had received no pension and a temporary pension of $100 a month may only after his intervention.

The armed forces should have representation in the house and should be authorized to represent our members with the number of members decided on the basis of population, he said.

from the region around Sennar, made Gafsa untenable for the Americans and they retired to post-tensioning.

The communiqué said heavy fighting continued in the area west of Sennar, where the Yanks reported said the Americans had knocked out 25 German tanks.

CONTROL HIGH GROUND

Reports of headquarters indicated that the American assault succeeded in putting the U.S. troops in control of high ground east of Sennar, but the communiqué said, it was, said, were caused by Shaka dive bombers.

American medium bombers met the dive bombers at Karouan, from which the strongest enemy air attacks, particularly Shaka, are coming, largely destroyed by fire and explosives before the Germans gave up.

SECONDARY IMPORTANCE

The communiqué said: "The main preparation was being made to support our forces in the battle for the Sennar sector, but secondary strategic importance."

losses. Presumably the Louisburg was one of these vessels.

Sinking of the Corvette was the first known loss incurred by the Canadian navy in the North African campaign but the enemy had been so lucky.

SINK TWO SUBS

Two German subs sank the corvettes. Port Arthur and Ville De Quebec were officially credited with the sinking of a German and an Italian submarine in the western Mediterranean.

The Louisburg was the 11th ship of all classes lost by the navy since the war began. Mr. Macdonald said the sinking of the Corvette was the only casualty underlined by the flattening enterprise of Canadian ships in the Mediterranean.

The navy lost the corvettes Levin, with 18 men, Windflower with 22, and the 100-footers 37 and Charlotte with nine.

THREE DESTROYERS HAVE BEEN LOST

The Fraser with 45 men, Marquette, with 100 men, and Ottawa with 113. The minesweeper D'Or was lost, believed by steamer with 100 men. The Rambler was lost with 38 men and the patrol ship Oster caught fire off Cape Town and went down with 19 men.

Men with next of kin in every province were included in the list of eight of the victims lost in Ontario, eight in Quebec, four in Nova Scotia, three in New Brunswick, two in Alberta, two in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island, two in Saskatchewan, one in Manitoba, one in Campbell whose wife now lives at Toronto, and one in British Columbia. The next of kin of the 88th crewmen lost in the navy live in Scotland.

HARDEST HIT

Among Canadian cities, Montreal suffered the heaviest blow in the Mediterranean. The navy lists men from that district listed among the missing.

Campbell had been active in work of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve since 1939. He joined the navy in 1941 and was promoted to the rank of the service, Ensign, R.C.N. In civilian life he was a Saskatoon accountant.

Second officer lost with the Louisburg was Ernest Wilson, 39, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilson, who has a wife living at Ottawa. A native of Liverpool, Lieut. Wilson was an employee of the Ottawa post office before he went back to sea in this war.

The Louisburg casualties raised to 11 the total number of men officially reported dead and missing since the outbreak of hostilities.

The armed forces should have representation in the house and should be authorized to represent our members with the number of members decided on the basis of population, he said.

THREE OFFICERS SAVED

The Corvette's other three officers were listed by the navy among the missing. They are: Lt. Commander Hall F. W. Tingley, R.C.N., widely known in Vancouver and Victoria; Lt. Robert A. Jarvis, C.R.N.V.R., Toronto; and Sub-Lt. William Rignall Wright of Manitoba.

"Come and Get It"

The person in Canada should make note of the fact that the new ration books are not to be sent through the mails. They must be called for at appointed places, in the period between Feb. 19th and March 1st. The places where the books are to be obtained will be made known in advertisements, and the local news published therein are also reserved.

On the other side of the world Liberators and Flying Fortresses paid a Sunday morning visit to the Japanese base at Rabaul, dropping more than fifty tons of bombs on 2500 incendiaries, with the result that clouds of black smoke prevented the airmen making a survey of the damage done.

These are the kind of week-end reports the Allies probably from this on will have to get used to supplying fictitious substitutes for. In both zones the Axis powers are now getting larger instalments of the payment in kind that is coming to them for the countries to which they subjected the residents of Warsaw, Rotterdam, London, Potsdam and Singapore.

It detracts nothing from the satisfaction of making the payments when these are delivered on Sunday, for the quiet hours of Sunday morning was the favorite time chosen by enemy raiders for all-out attacks on civilian populations and on military posts of friendly nations.

The Dawson Creek Tragedy

The pioneer town of Dawson Creek was hard hit by the fire and explosion on Saturday night. But the town's main strength lies in the transport and trading centre into which will cause it to be rebuilt, no doubt on more permanent lines and with better means of protection against the fire hazard in future. Dozens of young communities in the west have been wiped out by fire, and almost invariably rule has been that more resistant buildings have risen from the ashes and better fire-fighting facilities created. There is a reason for Dawson Creek, and this reason remains unchanged by the fire.

Investigation is of course being made into the origin of the fire and the circumstances which resulted in the loss of life and the large number of injuries received, and this information will be forthcoming in due course. The street was crowded when the explosion occurred, and the roofs of nearby buildings occupied by spectators, it is very fortunate that more people were not killed and more badly injured.

Two Valuable Courses

Captain A. J. Huff, chief air raid warden for Edmonton, announces that his excellent organization has arranged two courses of lectures for ARP workers, caretakers, watchmen and managers of industrial, planned and public buildings. These lectures will be given in various convenient parts of the city and the general public is invited to attend.

The first course consists of two lectures by Instructor Norman Arnold of the Edmonton Institute, and will graphically illustrate the proper methods of civilian fire fighting and the rescue of persons trapped in fires.

The second course will consist of lectures by Sgt. Maj. F. W. Purkiss and other service instructors on poison gases and gas decontamination.

While these courses are intended primarily for those who may expect to meet, in the course of their daily duties, the problems to be discussed, they are intended to give an indication that every household should have at hand fire tips.

Fire is an ever-present hazard. These lectures will show everyone the most efficient way of dealing with it.

The gas menace is something that Edmonton may not be facing at present, but this is not the case. We have no way to estimate the offensive resources still at Japan's command. And even a losing Axis might be able to carry out highly dangerous or vengeance raids over parts of Canada.

These two courses are essentially timely and valuable. Every Edmonton man and woman should find time to attend them.

Another Bastion Gone

Rostov has changed hands again, for the fourth time since June 1941—and probably for the last time. The battering which the Axis armies are receiving in the south is a grim reminder of confidence that they cannot be easily reorganized for a spring drive toward the Red army for which Rostov is the gate.

The city was the southern anchor post of the encircling line. It lost, together with that of Voronezh, the last bridge across the Donets, the only remaining pillar in his string of fortified positions on the southern sector, and the fall of Kharkov appears imminent. It is captured the Red army will have a clear road to the Dneiper and the Sea of Azov.

The Axis garrison of Rostov was estimated at 250,000. Twice as many men were supposed to be holding the line between Rostov and Kirovograd. The forces are reported to be retreating, taking the few railways and roads to the west not yet cut by the Russians, while Berlin announces that the remnant of its Caucasus army is retreating across the Kerch peninsula into the Crimea, where it will be again trapped if the Red columns can reach the coast in time.

The loss of territory and even the crumpling of the defence line is less important than the destruction of the Hitler forces and the demoralization that must be caused by his failure to hold his empire. There is probably truth in the report that the Fuehrer has handed over, or been made to hand over, the supreme military command to his generals. Who then even they can stop the rout and form a new line along the Dneiper that will hold is doubtful.

Just a Progress Report

Lorient, Cologne, Milan, Naples, Crotona, Bizerte, Tunis, Tripoli, the seven bases and minor bases, centres ranging from France to Germany to Italy to Tunisia, were targets which Allied bombers raided over the weekend. The attack on Lorient was even heavier than that a few days before, the Nazi authorities having ordered the city entirely a military area. In addition medium sized bombers and fighter squadrons ranged over France, the Low Countries and western Germany, wrecking airports, marshalling yards and terminals and shooting up trains.

On the other side of the world Liberators and Flying Fortresses paid a Sunday morning visit to the Japanese base at Rabaul, dropping more than fifty tons of bombs on 2500 incendiaries, with the result that clouds of black smoke prevented the airmen making a survey of the damage done.

These are the kind of week-end reports the Allies probably from this on will have to get used to supplying fictitious substitutes for. In both zones the Axis powers are now getting larger instalments of the payment in kind that is coming to them for the countries to which they subjected the residents of Warsaw, Rotterdam, London, Potsdam and Singapore.

It detracts nothing from the satisfaction of making the payments when these are delivered on Sunday, for the quiet hours of Sunday morning was the favorite time chosen by enemy raiders for all-out attacks on civilian populations and on military posts of friendly nations.

The German armies which have been fighting in the Caucasus are finished. One successful Russian encirclement has followed another and there seems to be no end to them. The Germans have suffered such disasters as have overcome the French and British in North Africa, and have recovered.

At the beginning of the Russo-German war the German armies suffered loss. But the Russian strategy in war as in the Napoleonic war was to retreat into the north and to fight on the defensive. The German troops were not the elite of the Russian forces but there were fewer than half as many as the Russians. The Germans were heavy, not a single Russian army has ever been annihilated.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Dusky Frank Dixon's surprise victory in the Hunter trophy race at Boston Saturday night apparently heralds the "arrival" of the first great negro miler in history.

Many negroes have distinguished themselves in other departments of track and field and in most other sports, but Dixon is the first negro to have ever to win a major-mile. Moreover, he is the first freshman ever to win a track title.

The late John Homan of Bridgeport, N.J., record-breaking middle distance runner who died in December, was the namesake of the first great negro miler, but his achievements were restricted to racing from 600 yards to two-thirds of a mile.

NEGROS ONLY SPRINT

TRACK and field history is steeped with the names of great negro performers, particularly in the sprints and jumps, but we can't recall a negro runner ever to have won a sprint race beyond the middle distances.

Just why that is we do not know, but it may be that negro stamina because the endurance of negroes in the prize ring has been one of their greatest assets. For example, Joe Louis never showed the least sign of fatigue in any of his bouts. And the brilliant boxer, held by Herb Armstrong, Joe Walcott, Sam Langford, Eddie Peacock and George Dixon was phenomenal.

Perhaps in track and field, the young negroes in prep school concentrate on the sprints and jumps, but they have been champions, too, like Sol Butler, Howard Drew, Bing Dismore, Deon Hart, Eddie Kordell, Tom Ralph Metcalfe, Eulace Peacock, Jesse Owens, Cornelius Johnson, etc.

At Washington, McNeill disclosed yesterday that the Texas League representatives who inquired about the possibility of moving to the National League, were those workers who can't be drafted—deferees have been told simply that they must join in the service.

McNeill sold his press conference he had undertaken to advise bachelors where they should procure a place this year.

"That is their business," he observed.

While reliable Washington source, who cannot be named, said some baseball men want him to tell them to go along on the tour, he said that would force baseball Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis to "freeze" all play contracts until the end of the year.

Under such orders, this informant asserted, the players will become free agents.

Point-to-Point Races Cancelled

BALTIMORE, Feb. 16.—(AP)—The death knell of big time point-to-point racing in America was sounded yesterday with the announcement that both the Maryland Hunt Cup and the Lady's major point-to-point races have been cancelled.

Present War Is Spiritual Speaker Says

"This is a war of the spiritual rather than the material," the Rev. James D. Gammie, general secretary, said at the second of two meetings held by the Edmonton branch of the National Service Workers in the Masonic Temple.

NOT ENOUGH SHORTAGE

It was pointed out that the return of dependents does not mean that the accommodation they were using would return to the rental market. Several delegates stated that the operators of houses would continue to use the accommodations and therefore the housing situation would not be relieved in any degree.

One delegate stated that under the new regulations, the operator, as well as the householder, would be made responsible for representations which exaggerated the situation here. "It was suggested that operators of houses should have been made, and asked if an inquiry into the source could not be made, this delegate stated.
